There are various players on the Android and iOS platform and Windows Phone 8 that support MP4/M4A. PlayOn Silverlight and Silverlight for Windows Phone Edge browser (on Windows Phone) Webview (IOS and Windows Phone) All of these support the MP3 container format as well as MP4. The MP3 container format can also be opened in Windows Media Player, that supports various formats. In general, if you want to play a video/audio file on any device the file will have to be in a format that the device supports. using System; using System.Collections.Generic; using System.Linq; using System.Text; using System.Threading.Tasks; using Xamarin.Forms; namespace AlbumViewModel { public class AlbumViewModel { public string Title { get; set; } public List albums { get; set; } } } } Q: Does the merging of multiple random seed values using numpy.random.random_sample() reduce the randomness? I'm dealing with a situation where a random number generator may be called a million times in a row for an application and I need to be assured the same result will be returned each time. It seems like the best way to be assured of the same result is to use numpy.random.random_sample(). This works fine for a very large number of calls, but I'm just
